Andalusia: Tradition, Gastronomy, and Flamenco

*MS La Belle de Cadix 4**

7 Nights

February - March 2017

Summary

The 176-passenger Belle de Cadix is a river and seagoing ship owned by CroisiEurope. The ship, which was built in 2005 and refurbished in 2010, sails on seven-night itineraries on the Guadiana and Guadalquivir rivers in Spain and Portugal and along the Atlantic coast.

In addition to the three cabin decks, there's also a sun deck. The panoramic lounge, with a bar and dance floor, is situated on the middle deck, while the dining room is on the main deck. Other onboard facilities include a library, gift shop and elevator. Wi-Fi is available at additional cost.

CroisiEurope places a lot of emphasis on its French heritage, and meals onboard are inspired by French culinary traditions. Three-course lunches and dinners feature many of the country's classic dishes. And with Alain Bohn, the company's head chef, serving as an active member of the French culinary association Maitres Cuisiniers de France -- which champions French food and drink -- you can expect the menu to be decidedly French. Lunches and dinners are set menus, and breakfast is buffet-style, featuring baguettes, yogurt, muesli and cold cuts among the options.
