Day 1: Cusco

Board the Belmond Andean Explorer train in Cusco, the ancient capital of the Inca Empire. Settle down and unwind in your luxurious cabin as the train begins its journey southeast towards Puno. Savour your lunch on board one of the elegant dining cars.

After, disembark to visit Raqch'i. Once an important control point for the Incas, it is today a fascinating archaeological site brimming with history. Return to the train.

Soak up the sensational sunset over the Raya Mountain range, before preparing yourself for an elegant dinner on board. The train will continue to Lake Titicaca where it will stop for the evening.

Day 2: Puno

Awake early to catch the breathtaking sunrise across Titicaca, before enjoying a delicious breakfast on board. Today's tours explore the eclectic beauty and rich diversity of life on Lake Titicaca, the largest lake in South America and home to many islands. First you will take a traditional boat ride out to the Uros islands, stunning man-made lands carefully created from woven reeds that are constantly being replenished. Continue on to Taquile Island, a beautiful island with a way of life barely touched by time. Enjoy a private lunch on Collata beach, with demonstrations from traditional dancers and artisanal workers. Enjoy afternoon tea at the station before departing on to Arequipa.

Day 3: Arequipa

Enjoy breakfast before setting off on an early-morning excursion to the spellbinding, rugged scenery of Lake Lagunillas. Afterwards visit Sumbay caves, home to fascinating cave paintings that estimated to be almost 8000 years old.

Return to the train for lunch as the train continues to Arequipa.
