Day 2: Paris

In the morning, your guide meets you at the hotel and escorts you through the city's history in the Ile de la Cité. The 12th-century cathedral of Notre-Dame de Paris towers over the encircling Seine River. The tallest spire reaches a height of 300 feet. Gargoyles protrude from the roof, overlooking the flying buttresses. A relief of the Last Judgment decorates the Tympanum. People stroll along the cobblestone streets of the Latin Quarter

Day 6: Chateau de Chambord

The Loire Valley is known for its stunning castles and beautiful fairytale landscape. French kings created a region of luxury and opulence rising from the lush riverbanks nourishing the area. The result was a collection of unforgettable chateaus and royal gardens. Today you visit the stunning Chateau de Chambord, a majestic 16th-century estate encompassing nearly 13,591 acres

Day 7: Chateau Chenonceau

In the morning, the sunlight washes over the lush plains of the Loire Valley and glints off the serene waters of the various rivers. Make your way to the exquisite 16th-century Chateau Chenonceau for a tour of the grand estates. The castle straddles the River Cher, utilizing the water to create a moat. An arched bridge connects the grounds to the luxurious edifice. Catherine de Medici created the gardens and Corps de Logis gallery, a term referring to the palace's principal block. The Gothic spires rise above the water at a height of 508 feet. At low tide, the water washes away from the island shores, allowing people to walk to the mainland. During high tide, the water can rise, creating a difference of 50 feet. Your guide leads you on a morning tour of the island, taking in the tremendous swirling sand of the seafloor and the twisting stone lanes of town.
